SUMMIT ON SUSTAINABILITY
AND MOOT COURT ON AFRICA
CONTINENTAL FREE TRADE
AREA (AFCFTA)

KIGALI/RWANDA
May 13-16, 2024

As part of its objectives to promote African experts in international Arbitration and mediation, the African Academy for the Practice of International Law (AAILP) will hold its First Lex climatica Moot court in May 2024 in Kigali at Kigali International Arbitration Centre (KIAC).

Utilizing a moot court setting to address climate-related legal issues within the context of AFCFTA can be an effective way to enhance legal expertise and foster discussions on how climate considerations intersect with trade and economic activities. This approach demonstrates a holistic approach to sustainability.

THE FIRST EDITION OF LEX CLIMATICA MOOT COURT (LCMC) AND SUMMIT ON SUSTAINABILITY FOR AFRICA HAS SEVERAL OBJECTIVES

In a world facing multiple crises, sustainability is emerging as an essential compass to guide our actions and forge a resilient future. Sustainability is not simply an option, but rather the essential compass that will guide us through today's storms. By placing sustainability at the heart of our actions, we can not only overcome crises, but also shape a future where harmony between man and planet prevails. This vision of sustainability goes beyond environmental, economic and social aspects, placing culture at the center of our quest for a harmonious and sustainable life. The cultural and creative industries (CCI) play an essential role in promoting sustainability in Africa.

This Sustainability Summit for Africa and the lex climatica moot Court to Accelerate AfCFTA represent a unique opportunity to create meaningful dialogue, foster concrete action and mobilize stakeholders towards a prosperous and sustainable future for Africa. The event presents a unique opportunity to boost your brand awareness among a diverse and international range of representatives from the energy industry, government ministries, diplomatic missions, international organisations, NGOs, academia, arbitral institutions and leading legal firms and chambers. Faced with a proliferation of increasingly restrictive legislation on sustainability, companies have gradually been forced to move towards a "global risk management policy", both curative and preventive, in order to ensure that their activities comply with a growing body of regulations and legislation.

This project will be a catalyst for the establishment of the training leading programme in the field of African dispute settlement and we will be exploring the strategies to expedite the effective implementation of AfCFTA and foster international collaboration for the advancement of AfCFTA and sustainability for Africa.

Join us for this unique experience of sharing ideas and innovation, as together we seek to accelerate AfCFTA and promote a sustainable future for Africa. The Summit will feature two plenary sessions and breakout sessions focusing on sustainability programs.
